BURNS IS EXPECTED

Famous Detective Is to Take Part in M'Na-
mara Trial

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 21.—Some thirty gentlemen rejoiced today at being at liberty out of doors instead of locked up under the care of bailiffs in the McNamara murder case. Agreement of opposing counsel to proceed in examining witnesses without a full jury box enabled Judge Walter Bordwell to excuse all gentlemen not already in the box until opening of the court Monday morning, and only six gentlemen left at conclusion of court yesterday were under restraint today. Otherwise six others would have been added to their number, and none of the thirty knew that he would not have been one of the six.

There was no session of court today but it proved a busy day for nearly every one connected with the trial.

Judge Bordwell found time to consider numerous citations offered by counsel, particularly in connection with denial of the state's challenge against Counselman A. C. Robinson, in which the court announced that should he find his decision incorrect, he would change it. Robinson's answers to questions asked from time over two court days finally elicited a query from the state as to who could possibly tell what his real state of mind was on question of a verdict on a capital charge supported by circumstantial evidence alone.

Chief Trial Deputy G. Ray Horton conceding that the court is the judge of the facts as to a juror's state of mind, offered for consideration a number of cases which he held to be along the same line and Judge Bordwell agreed to consider them.

McNamara Visited by Attorneys.
The defendant James B. McNamara, accused of causing the death of Chas. J. Hagarty, one of the 21 persons killed in the Los Angeles Times explosion and fire a year ago, was visited by his attorneys, who discussed the situation with him. They also saw John J. McNamara, brother of James and secretary of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, who is an attorney.

To his brother "Joe" the defendant talks much about the proceedings and each day a transcript of the preceding day's testimony goes to the jail for the older man to consider.

Examination of the jury, opposing counsel conceded today, is developing along lines not entirely in accord with expectations. Although the defense announced weeks ago its belief that a fair trial could be had, the open state of mind professed by jurors toward the defendant and generally toward the whole situation has been a source of surprise. An exception in this connection was Counselman E. J. Shower, who said he believed officials of labor unions had little respect for the law; that they, or some of them, were responsible for the explosion and fire in the Los Angeles Times building, and that he believed, as he would believe any piece of general information, that McNamara's statement implicating James B. McNamara in this disaster. He was excused.

Of the other talesmen thus far examined, however, none of this frame of mind has been discovered.

Opposed to Death Penalty.
Opposing counsel centered much attention today on what promise to be two big obstacles in getting a jury. These were aversion to the infliction of the death penalty on circumstantial evidence and the question of belief as to the cause of the Times explosion. A few talesmen have been found who are opposed to the death penalty under any circumstances. Others asserting that they could not convict a man on circumstantial evidence alone have been excused without exception when the court became satisfied that this really was their state of mind.

SUSPECTS RELEASED

Neither One Identified
As the Slayer of the Showmans

Ellsworth, Kan., Oct. 21.—Harry Baker, the hotel clerk who rented a room to the mysterious John Smith, charged by a coroner's jury with being the slayer of the Showman family, failed today to identify John Smith, man of Junction City, Kan., as Smith. Smith is in jail, he says, to a prolonged period of heavy drinking during which he happened to wander into Ellsworth and get himself involved in the murder case, and he is willing to remain in jail until he is better able to travel. He may be detained several days.

The suspect stayed at New York, Okla., was ordered released today. James Reardon, a former sheriff, who once arrested Charles Marzke, said the prisoner was not the desired man.

CUBS ENLISTING NEW PLAYERS

Chicago, Oct. 21.—The Chicago National League Baseball club management has already started in to rehabilitate its pitching staff for 1912. It is understood that left-handed twirlers will be in greater favor next season with the Cubs and, following this idea, Manager Chance yesterday purchased Walter Nagle, a big left-hander, from the Newark Eastern League club.

In addition to Nagle, who is the first "south paw" signed since the banishment of Jack Pfeister, the Cubs have added Jake Northrup, of the Reading Tri-State club, a big right-hander, said to be one of the real "hnds" of the year. All told the pitching staff to be assembled consists of fifteen men and others may be signed before the team embarks next spring for the training camp.

WISCONSIN HAS CARP

Is Being Canned as Salmon and Is Good Business

Madison, Wis., Oct. 21.—The state of Wisconsin is going into the "carp" business. For several years fishermen throughout the state have made a big profit in seining the lakes and selling the carp, which are canned and sold as salmon.

John A. Scholtz, state fish and game warden, has decided to turn this revenue into the coffers of the state. In the future the work of seining for carp will be done under his supervision. Experienced men in the carp industry will be employed to work out the new plan.

CONGREGATION IN PATROL WAGON

Chicago, Oct. 21.—The city auto patrol wagon will be used at Gary, Ind., to carry people to Central Church of Christ, according to an announcement made here yesterday.

The Rev. Nelson Trimble, pastor of the church, has made arrangements with Chief of Police J. D. Martin of Gary, to borrow his auto patrol wagon for two hours during the morning of the next three Sundays. He intends to use that vehicle, he says, to carry his congregation to church. For some time Mr. Trimble has noticed a falling off in the attendance at the morning services. He discovered that many of his flock have been decorating the street corners of Gary in various attitudes of leisure.

He at first tried the expedient of seeking these recruits in their homes and arguing with them. He found this had little effect in decreasing the size of the Sunday morning street crowds.

Then he went to Chief of Police Martin and asked him to lend him his wagon. The chief demurred at first. "What do you want it for?" asked the chief.

"Why," insisted the minister, "I want it to carry my congregation to church Sunday mornings."

"Humph," said the chief, "that's different. It seems to be a good cause. It will help you and it will help me. I'll go you."

CABINET APPROVES INSTRUCTIONS
PARIS, Oct. 20.—The cabinet council today approved certain additional instructions to the French ambassador at Berlin, M. Cambon, relative to the French concession to Germany in French Congo.

DESPONDENT WOMAN
TAKES HER OWN LIFE
Salt Lake, Oct. 21.—As the result of illness for a long period, toward the end of which her mind became affected, Mrs. H. L. Stone, aged 50 years, wife of Harry L. Stone, a foreman for the Portland Cement company, residing at 925 South Fourth

West street, committed suicide last night at 6 o'clock by swallowing the contents of a bottle of strychnine. The unfortunate woman died almost immediately and without the convulsions which usually follow the taking of the poison.

Mrs. Stone had made no threats to her husband to the effect that she contemplated taking her life. Mr. Stone returned to his home last night shortly before 6 o'clock. The first thing he did upon his arrival was to go to the barn in the rear of the yard and attend to his horses.

While he was in the barn Mrs. Stone rushed to him from the house and cried:

"Well, I've taken it."

"Taken what?" he asked.

"Strychnine," she said, and ran back into the house. For a moment he believed her to be joking, but upon following her into the house he found her lying across a sofa dead.

Near her was an empty bottle labeled "Strychnine."

EFFIGY OF MINISTER

In the Baptist Church
Yard at Hyannis
Massachusetts

Hyannis, Mass., Oct. 21.—An effigy of Rev. Clarence V. T. Richeson hung today on a tree in the yard of the Baptist church of which he was formerly pastor. On a board nailed to the foot of the tree were painted the words:

"Guiltily—read Luke 12:2."

The scriptural reference is: "It will be better for him that a millstone were hanged about his neck and he cast into the sea than that he should offend one of these little ones."

The effigy was cut down.

Evidence Against Richeson
Boston, Oct. 21.—The Rev. Clarence V. T. Richeson, pastor of the Immanuel Baptist church of Cambridge, awake today somewhat refreshed, to begin his first full day in the county jail on Charles street, where he is to remain until Tuesday, Oct. 31, the date which had been set for his marriage to Miss Violet Edmonds, daughter of Moses Grant Edmonds, a wealthy resident of the Chestnut Hill section of Brooklyn.

Instead of being married on that day, the minister will appear in court on the charge of murdering his former sweetheart, Miss Avis Linnell, a student at the New England Conservatory of Music and a Sunday school teacher at Tremont Temple.

Today the police began their work of gathering evidence in the case. The actual delivery of the poison to Miss Linnell and the identity of the person with whom she dined last Sunday evening are matters of vital interest being inquired into.

Chief Dugan claims to have learned that Mr. Richeson dined last Saturday at the home of Mrs. Frank R. Riley of Somerville, a member of the Immanuel Baptist church. According to the police, Mrs. Riley has said that on this occasion Richeson threw himself on a couch and explained that he had lost a dear friend and that she had died of convulsions. The police wish to know how the minister knew this friend died of convulsions.

The police also are working on the statements made by John F. Danksin of Cambridge to the effect that his wife heard Richeson telephoning to Miss Linnell at the Young Women's Christian Association building to meet him Saturday.

Richeson remains cool and reticent. He has made no statement, says Chief Inspector Dugan. A member of the church said today that at the services at that church tomorrow a statement from Richeson would be read by the clergyman who is to occupy the pulpit.

GAMES SCHEDULED IN MIDDLE WEST

Chicago, Oct. 21.—The gridiron program today in the "big high" conference may be termed the turning point of the season, and the teams which meet defeat will have to wait another year before making claims to the conference title.

Indiana and Purdue have already been defeated by Chicago and in today's contest at least two more contenders in that championship race will probably be eliminated.

The principal games in the middle west today are:

Chicago and Illinois, at Marshall field.
Minnesota and Nebraska, at Minneapolis.
Wisconsin and Colorado, at Madison.
Michigan and Ohio State, at Ann Arbor.
Northwestern and Indiana, at Evanston.
Marquette and Wabash, at Milwaukee.
Iowa and Cornell, at Iowa City.
Case and Kenyon, at Cleveland.
Davenport and St. Louis, at St. Louis.
Iowa State and Missouri, at Ames.
Knox and Iowa Wesleyan, at Galesburg.
Lake Forest and Carroll, at Lake Forest.
Oberlin and Denison, at Oberlin.
Olivet and Hillsdale, at Olivet.
Notre Dame and Butler, at Notre Dame.
Beloit and Lawrence, at Appleton.
Drake and Coe, at Des Moines.
Vanderbilt and Kentucky, at Nashville.

PRESIDENT GETS NO PIE

Doctor Forbids Taft Eating
Pastry, to the Joy of Others

Edgemont, S. D., Oct. 21.—President Taft was up before 7 o'clock this morning to make the first speech of his three days' tour of South Dakota, the first insistent state he has traveled since leaving California. The President spent last night in New castle, Wyo., and left there at 5:30 a. m. for this city. His day's program calls for stops at Custer, Deadwood, Lead, Sturgis and Rapid City. The President's train last night was surrounded with Wyoming militiamen. Mr. Taft did not retire until nearly midnight.

The President is in the best of health and is standing the trip remarkably well. His voice is holding up splendidly and its wonderful carrying power is constantly being commented on. Speaking in the clear air of this hilly country, the President can be heard a block away.

Undoubtedly the President's health largely is due to the diet which has been prescribed for him by Major Thomas L. Rhoads, of the army, his official physician. Mr. Taft probably does not know the extent to which his food supplies are limited, but so far he has not complained. His fellow travelers in the private car Ideal

Secretary Hilles, Major Butt and Major Rhoads—are taking something of an advantage of their chief in this respect. For instance, the President is denied all pastry. Yesterday for luncheon the cook baked a hot apple pie. Everybody in the car knew about it except the President. When he asked for dessert, they supplied him with fruit. Then when the mid-day meal was ended, the conspirators retired to one of the staterooms, where a table had been set for the pie. They feasted royally on the masterpiece in pastry, while the President sat alone and neglected in the observation end of his car, wondering what had become of his staff. Every day that pie is on the menu in the Ideal, there is a lot of tip-toeing and the word is passed along the line to "stand by" and prepare for something like mother used to make. Some day the President is going to discover the low deceit that is being practiced on him and there is going to be an awful row.

Sentiment For La Follette
Deadwood, S. D., Oct. 21.—On the trip to Deadwood from Edgemont, President Taft was accompanied by Governor Vessey, United States Senator Gamble, Congressman Martin and Burke and United States Marshal Seth Bullock. Secretary Hilles was told that while the political atmosphere in South Dakota was far from clear at present, Mr. Taft had a chance to secure at least four of the ten delegates to the Republican national convention next year, which the state will have under the new congressional apportionment. Mr. Hilles was informed of a strong sentiment for Senator La Follette throughout the state.

ON A LONG WALK TO HIS OLD HOME

Moberley, Mo., Oct. 21.—R. H. Lamb, 92 years old, a tailor, arrived in Moberley last night, having walked from San Francisco. His destination is his old home in Princeton, Ind. He has been six months and twenty-one days on the road and says his health has been improved greatly by the long jaunt.

Lamb is not walking on a wager, or for a prize. He is compelled to walk for financial reasons.

CITIZENS' TICKET CHOSEN.
Bingham, Oct. 20.—At what is known as the Citizens' convention here this evening, a city ticket was nominated. Thomas H. Quillen, present mayor of Bingham, was nominated for that office, and Charles Adderley, Harry Brownlee, Dr. T. E. Straup and Victor Eckman for members of the city council.

The Socialists held a convention also this evening and nominated Anton Christensen for mayor, and A. J.

Gabrielson, Parley P. Jones, Richard R. Greer and Thomas Beeb for councilmen.

CHOOSE TICKET IN KAYSVILLE.
Kayville, Oct. 20.—At a Democratic caucus held here this evening, the following ticket was nominated: Dr. Sumner Gleason for mayor; George Swan for councilman for the four-year term; John C. Owen, John W. Gailey and Heber J. Sheffield for councilmen for the two-year term; Myron W. Phillips for treasurer; H. J. Sheffield, Jr., for recorder, and George W. Barnes for justice of the peace.

The ticket selected by the Republicans the night before consists of John W. Thornley for mayor; Frank L. Layton for councilman for the four-year term; Samuel B. Rushforth, Walter Correll and William Cummings for councilmen for the two-year term; John Woolsey for treasurer, and Chas. P. Burton for recorder.

ONCE MORE
POSTPONED

Grounds in Philadelphia
Are too Wet For Baseball Game

Philadelphia, Oct. 21.—The fourth game between the Philadelphia Athletics and the New York Giants for the baseball championship of the world, which was scheduled to be played here last Wednesday, was postponed today for the fourth time and under the rules will be played on Monday or the first clear day.

Rain fell heavier today than at any time since the present wet weather set in last Tuesday night. Umpires Klem, Connolly and Dineen, under instructions from the national commission, went to Shibe park at 7:30 o'clock this morning to make an early decision so that an announcement could be made in New York and other eastern cities within reach of Philadelphia. The umpires agreed before they left their hotels that there could be no game.

Connie Mack was not at the ball grounds when the umpires made their decision, but when he arrived and took a look at the wretched condition of the field he said it appeared to him that it was doubtful if a game would be played Monday unless the rain soon ceased.

The wet weather is giving the manager of the Athletics an opportunity to catch up on his correspondence, which has been unusually heavy since the Philadelphia team won its second game from New York. Among telegrams he has received was an invitation to play one of the games in Tacoma, Wash.

The members of the Philadelphia team reported at the grounds as usual today and were excused until Monday morning, at 10 o'clock, when they will try to get some much-needed practice. If the weather permits, Reuben Oldring, the center fielder, returned to Mount Vernon, N. Y., where his sister will be buried tomorrow. He expects to join his team Monday. Oldring, who arrived early today from Mount Vernon, said his mother was very ill.

As soon as the game was officially postponed, Manager McGraw of the New York team released the members of his team until Monday morning, and they scattered in all directions. Most of them left for New York at 11 o'clock.

The two days' postponement also enabled hundreds of out-of-town people who have been here since Wednesday to see the fourth game, to go home over Sunday.

SUBMARINE GOES TO
DEPTH OF 144 FEET
Newport, R. I., Oct. 20.—All records for submergence of submarine boats of the United States navy have been broken by the Salmon. This boat, with nineteen sailors and two officers on board, descended in Narragansett Bay to a depth of 144 feet. It was learned today, remaining there ten or fifteen minutes.

The previous record of 125 feet was held by the Octopus.

SIX COMETS IN THE SKY

Two Can Be Seen With Naked Eye—One Is Brilliant

San Jose, Cal., Oct. 21.—Astronomers now, according to Dr. R. G. Aitken of Lick Observatory, are enjoying the unusual experience of observing two bright comets, one in the western sky shortly after sunset, the other in the eastern sky in the early morning.

"The former, discovered by M. Bejovsky, on September 25," said Dr. Aitken tonight, "has just passed its point of nearest approach to the sun, almost grazing its surface, and is now traveling rapidly away from it. At present it is a conspicuous object for naked eye observation, having a very bright head and a tail about seven degrees long. It should be looked for a little north of the sunset point, immediately after dark. It will probably remain visible for at least a week longer."

"The head of the other comet, discovered by Dr. Brooks last July, is brighter now than that of Halley's at its brightest, and as it is still traveling toward the sun, it should increase in brightness during the next ten days. Last night in spite of moonlight, the tail could be traced with the naked eye through about 20 degrees. For the remainder of the month it will be a brilliant object in the morning sky, northeast of Venus, the morning star. The best time to see it is a little before 5 o'clock."

"In addition to these two bright comets, at least four others, visible only with the telescope, are known to be in the neighborhood of the sun. One of these, Encke's comet, returns to the sun at regular intervals of about three and one-half years and has been observed at more returns than any other comet. Another is making its second visit to the sun. The remaining two, like the two bright comets, move in what astronomers call parabolic orbits and are now seen for the first time, as far as is known."

MOVEMENTS OF STOCK MARKET

New York, Oct. 21.—Weekly market summary:

Movements of stocks were irregular during the week, with greater firmness toward its close. Speculative opinion was confused and uncertain and the market was lacking in stability. Fluctuations of prices were due chiefly to the operation of professional traders.

The widest movement was a decline of ten points in Great Northern Ore certificates owing to the announcement that the U. S. Steel corporation would cancel its lease for the Great Northern ore lands.

The principal change in the industrial situation was the improvement in the copper trade which resulted in a revival of speculative interest in the copper stocks. Prices of the metal were advanced as a result of increased demand for both domestic and foreign delivery.

Steel prices were brought closer to the cost of production with the result that the volume of new business was maintained.

Low rates for money and the inadequate supply of mercantile paper resulted in an increased demand for bonds at higher prices.

PRISONERS ARE ON STRIKE IN SING SING

Ossining, N. Y., Oct. 21.—A prisoners' strike developed in Sing Sing prison today when 156 convicts in the knitting shop refused to continue work, declaring themselves dissatisfied with existing conditions.

Head Keeper Connaughton told them they must work or be locked in their cells, but they maintained they were being driven too hard by their foreman and declared they would prefer the latter alternative. According to them they were locked up.

My Position and Attitude On PROHIBITION

My friends inform me that the cry of Prohibition is being raised, and that some fear if I am elected I will agitate the question and bring about the passage of a prohibition ordinance.

LET ME SAY TO ALL—PROHIBITIONISTS, LOCAL OPTIONISTS, AND THOSE IN FAVOR OF STRICT REGULATION—

I consider that the question of Prohibition was settled at the special election last June; and the law calling the June election forbids its re-submission for two years, (see Chap. 106, Secs. 50 and 51, Utah Statutes). I will say further, if the people of Ogden elect me to the office of Mayor, prohibition will not be agitated by me.

The ordinance passed by the City Council as a compromise, and accepted by the liquor interests and a majority of the citizens, I consider was responsible for the defeat of prohibition.

I accept the will of the majority, and invite all citizens to do the same.

I declare my intention to abide by the provisions of the ordinance, and I stand for strict regulation and enforcement of the same.

I ASK NO MORE—I WILL GIVE NO LESS.

PROHIBITION IS ELIMINATED—STRICT REGULATION is what the people want and what they shall have.

I stand for a square deal for everybody who is willing to give a square deal.
